Pastor Eric Caiaphas Bogan is the youngest son of the late Bishop Walter E. Bogan, Sr., and Mother Dianne M. Bogan. He is the great-grandson of the late Superintendent T.R. and Erma Harris. The grandson of the late Bishop C.J. and Mother Lillian Johnson, and also the late Bishop A. G. Burrell and Mother Norma Burrell.

Pastor Bogan attended the University of Michigan. After accepting his call to the ministry, he, together with his wife, Karleen Bogan attended Rhema Bible Training Center in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma where he graduated in 1999. After returning home to Michigan, Pastor Bogan was ordained an Elder in the Church Of God In Christ under the late Bishop C. L. Anderson, Jr., and later appointed as Associate Pastor of Harris Memorial Church of God in Christ, under his father, Bishop W.E. Bogan, Sr.

He dedicates himself to helping people grow and mature in the Word of God. He is a devout student of the Word. He is known for his bold, anointed, and powerful teaching ministry. Pastor Bogan is someone who walks in the truth of God’s word and he shows love to all. He is happily married to the love of his life Karleen, who is the mother of his three beautiful children: Kolby Shantel, Blake Harris and Luke Emile.

Mrs. Karleen Bogan is the youngest daughter of Mr. Warren E. Barge, Jr. and Mrs. Linda (Barge) Jackson. She attended both Tennessee State and University of Michigan. She is a woman who is honored to be a born again, spirit-filled disciple of Christ.

As the assistant Director of Women’s Ministries for Harris Memorial COGIC, she is highly motivated and spiritually qualified to lead women. She has been at Harris Memorial since the young age of 12. She has called Bishop Walter E. Bogan, Sr. & Mother Dianne M. Bogan her spiritual parents long before she called them her in-laws. Mother Dianne Bogan has tenderly taught and trained her to be a woman of excellence and integrity. One who exemplifies the characteristics of godliness. Therefore, she confidently leads by example.

She is a woman who believes in doing the work of the Lord in the spirit of excellence. She desires for women everywhere to be saved, to be holy, and to be examples first in the home, in the community, and in the church. She believes that women ought to encourage themselves daily on the word of God, and to speak to themselves with psalms, hymns and spiritual songs. She believes that women today must be mature and find their place to serve in ministry to maintain their focus, in becoming an asset to the body of Christ rather than being a hindrance. She is a loving, supportive wife to Pastor Eric C. Bogan. Together they have three children: Kolby Shantel, Blake Harris and Luke Emile.
